PROMX "MICROSOFT DYNAMICS PROFESSIONAL SERVICES PARTNER OF THE YEAR" FINALIST

proRM, the Project and Resource Management Solution, shines out among more than 3,000 registered products and solutions

Nuremberg, 23rd of June: proMX, a leading system integrator and software development house from Nuremberg and one of the most successful Microsoft Gold Certified Partners of recent years, exceeds all: Today Microsoft officially announced that proRM the Project and Resource Management Solution has been confirmed as a finalist for "Microsoft Dynamics Professional Services Partner of the Year" surpassing more than 3,000 registered products and solutions. The announcement of the finalists was made today on the DigitalWPC Page, with the category winners to be announced at the WPC on 11 July 2010.

This is an added bonus for proMX, and the proRM team, who had already committed to attending as Bronze Sponsor and exhibitor at the Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference 2010, 11 to 15 July.

proMX is actively recruiting new proRM partners and distributors in North and South America, to repeat the success that has already been attained in Europe. Now the team from Nuremberg can combine this task with the celebration of being awarded finalist for "Microsoft Dynamics Professional Services Partner of the Year".

"Having been nominated finalist is the acknowledgement for our commitment as a Microsoft partner in the recent years as well as for the many other successful projects," said Peter Linke, Managing Director of proMX. "With this success and the award at the Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference we will carry on our business with our partners in North America more extensively and shall quickly gain more partners. For us, this award is a further step in international business".

Having been nominated finalist adds a new chapter of proRM to the list of successes of proMX. Lately proMX, the German Microsoft systems integrator, was also awarded the certification as a Microsoft Independent Software Vendor (ISV) / Software Solutions for its proRM Project and Resource Management solution.
